Viking EMEA

Global minds, local hearts

Viking EMEA is a key player in fire protection across Europe, the Middle East, and North Africa. We proudly cater to 2,100 clients in 74 nations, offering comprehensive solutions from sprinkler and deluge systems to water mist, foam, gas extinguishing, and detection & control technologies for both commercial and industrial needs.

With a diverse team of over 200 professionals representing more than 25 nationalities, Viking EMEA operates from key hubs, including Luxembourg (our headquarters), Germany, Spain, Sweden, the UK, and Turkey.

Our extended network features additional offices and specialized sales units in countries like the Netherlands, France, Italy, Poland, Romania, Serbia, Egypt, United Arab Emirates, and Saudi Arabia.

Being part of a multinational and multicultural company, Viking EMEA has built its business through innovation and development for over 30 years. Our global reach is a considerable advantage, allowing us to adapt to cultural differences and stay ahead of local competition.

Viking EMEA's success can be attributed to our commitment to developing long-term customer relationships. By understanding their specific needs and providing proven solutions, we create added value for our customers and strengthen our position as a trusted partner in the fire protection industry. As Viking EMEA continues to grow and expand, our expertise and customer service will remain at the heart of our business.

Where expertise and service unite

Viking EMEA's passion for fire protection combined with our technical expertise and vast resources make us a valuable partner in any project. Our tested, proven, and approved system components and broad product range give customers the confidence to choose Viking as their single-point partner.

Our international customer service and dependable technical support services make it easy for installers of fire protection systems to source quality products.

Viking's involvement in local and global fire protection associations not only allows us to keep up-to-date on the latest developments, technologies, and regulations; it also enables us to play an active role in writing standards and promoting fire safety to authorities having jurisdiction, insurers, governments, and the general public.

Additionally, we revise and advocate for strong regulations and guidelines by taking part in standard committees, ultimately contributing to making the world a safer place.

Constructing the future of fire protection

Viking EMEA has access to an international network of resources by being part of a global corporate holding. The ability to test and refine products in-house, using full-scale fire test facilities and 3D solid modeling software, allows for quicker innovation and an overall improved product offering.

Viking EMEA's facilities include the in-house trim production in Differdange, Luxembourg, the fire detection and suppression control panel pre-assembly in Bad Oldesloe, Germany, and the special hazard manufacturing entity in Bressana Bottarone, Italy.

Our skilled team of professionals in Differdange ensures premium trim products with an eye for detail and timely customer delivery. The expert team in Bad Oldesloe specializes in pre-assembling fire detection and suppression control panels according to individual customer requirements. At specific request, the customer also receives support in configuring the panel.

Research,

and manufacture

Our special hazard facility in Bressana Bottarone focuses on manufacturing foam hardware and operates an on-site gas filling station. Everything centers around our skilled engineering expertise in creating bespoke solutions tailored to the individual needs of our customers. The products are dependable, customized on spec, and delivered on time anywhere globally.

Our flexible and dynamic approach ensures short turnaround times and solution-finding in most complex environments. Experience you can depend on.
